OFFICERS ON TRAIL OF COAST ARSON RING

Huns Crowding Russia—French Capture Prisoners—Russia Will Resist Invasion—Late News

HAGERMAN PROVES ROYAL GERMAN AGENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—Admitting specifically his part in burning the $1,000,000 plant of the Red River Lumber Company at Westwood, the poisoning of cattle in California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and having other incendiary activities, the detailed confession made by Fritz Hagerman, alias Charles Alsenbach, arrested at Susanville, was received by federal authorities in San Francisco early this afternoon.

A woman, whose name the authorities are withholding, is named by Hagerman as one of the party of six which rode into Westwood by automobile last September to fire the big lumber plant.

The names of other accomplices in the Westwood and other crimes are given in Hagerman's signed confession, but these are being withheld by the authorities while a sweeping search of every section of California for other members of the so-called I. W. W. arson ring, which the authorities believe was paid with German gold, is being made.

In his confession Hagerman admits freely that he is a German, that he is opposed to the United States in the war, and would do what he could to aid the Kaiser to victory.

GERMAN ARMY IS ADVANCING IN RUSSIA

BERLIN, Feb. 23.—In their new invasion of Russian territory the German forces have reached Walk, in Livonia, ninety miles northeast of Riga, it was announced today by the German general staff. In Volhynia the Teuton armies marching from Lutsk have reached the fortress of Dubno. The statement follows:

In Estonia we are pressing eastward in Livonia, Walk has been occupied.

In Ukraine the forces advancing southwest from Lutsk reached Dubno. Elsewhere our operations are taking their course.

GERMANS TAKEN IN FRENCH RAIDS

PARIS, Feb. 23.—French troops last night raided the German positions north of the Ailette River and in the Champagne, the war office announced today. Prisoners and war material were brought back by the French.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—A successful raid was carried out last night by Scottish troops in the neighborhood of Monchy le Preux, says today's war office report. We captured a few prisoners. Prisoners also were brought in by our patrols east of Wytshaete.

The hostile artillery was active during the night in the neighborhood of the Menin road and south of Hout-holst forest.

RUSS TO OPPOSE GERMANY TO LIMIT

PETROGRAD, Feb. 23.—Men, women and even prisoners of war are rallying to the defense of the Russian revolution. A thousand women have offered themselves for the army. Fifty thousand workmen soon will be ready to take their places in the battle line, it is declared.

Even thousands of war prisoners in Petrograd and Moscow—Mostly Austro-Hungarians and Slavs, but including some Germans—are willing to join the defense, the Bolsheviks assert.

Telegrams received from Soviets in all parts of Russia urge a fight to the finish.

PNEUMONIA PLAGUE IN NORTHERN CHINA

BOSTON, Feb. 23.—The pneumonia plague has broken out in Shansi province, China, and has assumed such proportions that all North China is seriously threatened.

Advices to this effect were received today by the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions from members of its staff in North China.

A statement issued by the board says:

This pneumonia plague is particularly virulent. Practically no one who becomes a victim of it recovers. It is the same disease that ravaged Mongolia five years ago and carried off 30,000 or 40,000 people before it was checked.

TURKISH ARMY ASSUMES OFFENSIVE

LONDON, Feb. 23.—The Turkish army in the Caucasus has begun an offensive, a correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company wires from the headquarters of the Russian western army. The attack was started before the expiration of the armistice. The Turks occupied

MIRA VISTA—One of Richmond's New and Beautiful Home Sections In the Eastern Hills

The above is a picture just taken of a new and very picturesque residential district at the base of the hills in East Richmond, in which some of our most important business men are building their homes. The view of the bay and country from there is grand almost beyond description, as indeed it is from any of the hill sections of Richmond, to the east, west or north.

The homes being built in the neighborhood here shown are all modern and up-to-date home places, and the surroundings are now being planted to palms, flower gardens and ornamental shrubbery. The hill sections of Oakland, Berkeley and Piedmont are all beautiful residential sections, and in a few more years this must also be true of Richmond.

Among those who have built homes in the particular section here portrayed are Joseph T. Hough, manager of the Standard Oil plant; Judge D. J. Hall, city attorney; Constable H. O. Watson; Frank Jordan, of the Standard Oil; J. A. Walby, manager of the Contra Costa Realty Co.; J. K. Adams and A. W. Gannon, both of the Standard Oil plant; E. H. Kieffer, realty man; T. J. Hanna, assistant manager Standard Oil; W. Erwin, and E. M. Tilden, of the Tilden Lumber Co.

LOCAL WOMAN SINGLED OUT FOR LETTER PLOT

Mrs. Eugenia Metcalf, 1107 MacDonald avenue, Richmond, has received letters signed "A Sister in Need," and asking her to write letters to Mayor W. L. Lane and J. B. Baldwin, local real estate man, and telling them that they are jeopardizing their lives by taking an active part in the organization of the Richmond War Service League. Both Lane and Baldwin are officers in the organization. The letters say that the purpose of the league is to put all German people in jail and to make life unbearable for them.

Mrs. Metcalf cannot say why she was singled out for the plea of the mysterious writer. She is neither German nor of German descent, nor has she any anti-war sentiments. She turned the letters over to the police immediately upon receiving them.

Chief of Police Walker and Federal authorities are working on the case. The police would make no statement on the matter other than that they were putting forth their best efforts to finding the writer.

Reports are that there are many peddlers of face lotions about town whose wares are questionable. The police will look into the matter.

B. McWorter, the Point Richmond grocer who had his auto stolen from him in Oakland, has recovered the machine. He found it on Fifty-fourth street, Oakland.

Rev. Zimmerman, who has been engaged in Bible work on the ships in San Francisco bay, will speak this evening at the Calvary Baptist church. He promises an interesting discourse.

Carnival Night of R. N. Lodge

Now comes the big entertainment night of the Royal Neighborhood. It will be known as a Carnival Night and will be tomorrow night. There are to be booths, a fishing pond, fortune telling, and other concessions for the sale of ice cream and cake. The entire public is invited and are promised an evening of excellent entertainment.

Hon. Calahan Visits Richmond

Hon. William Calahan, member of the legislature from this county, visited Richmond yesterday and dropped in to chew the rag with the fighting editor of the News. Mr. Calahan and the News editor are real good friends, only they do not agree on the prohibition question. We undertook to point out to Hon. Bill the errors of his ways, and after a long talk he went his way, not convinced but promising to give the subject both careful and prayerful consideration. This will likely be the first time Hon. Bill has prayed for a long time, and in that case his visit here will be of benefit, at least to himself, for we are satisfied that he ought to pray more than he does.

His position on the liquor question is that the people ought to settle it by their own votes, and not pass it to their representatives in the house and senate. Our position is that every representative and every other self-respecting and decent American citizen ought to be against booze on general principles.

FISH SITUATION SUBJECT OF MEET

Councilman J. B. Ogborn and W. E. Ames, secretary of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, attended a food and fish conservation meeting in San Francisco yesterday afternoon with the High Cost of Living League of Oakland. The meeting was for the purpose of determining the reason for the present high cost of fish.

Weinstock, State Fish Commissioner, was present at the meeting, but absolutely refused to consider the idea of forming a faction in the state whose function would be the catching of fish. He is not authorized to buy or sell and he says a faction would have to buy from the present producers under such conditions. He could give little data of the sort the local men wanted.

Why is he paid a salary of $5000 a year?

The thing under consideration at the present time by the people of the east bay cities is the organization of a combination of citizens who will pledge the funds for the purchase of boats, nets and fishing equipment necessary for an experiment whereby they catch their own fish. The fish caught would be sold to retailers at a rate far below the present buying rate to them, enabling them to sell to consumers at the same low rate. This would not interfere with their business and would serve as a protection against the trusts.

Incidentally, a large fishing concern with fishing stations near San Francisco, offered to sell to such an organization their entire catch,

Restaurants Here Ignore Food Law

There is a food law that forbids the sale of any pork meat from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. and there are local restaurants violating that law. An inspector made the rounds of the restaurants, ordering ham sandwiches, and in a number of instances he was served.

This is the last warning to be issued to Richmond restaurant men. Ignorance will not excuse them. They should know the law. Speedy arrests will follow henceforth any sale of pork meats between the hours of 11 o'clock in the morning and 5 o'clock in the afternoon on any week day.

VALLEJO PRIEST HERE

Rev. J. D. O'Brien, of the Dominican Order, and pastor of St. Vincent's church of Vallejo, will open the 10:30 o'clock mass at St. Mark's Catholic church this morning. Rev. O'Brien is a well known missionary priest.

under a yearly contract, at the uniform rate of three cents a pound.

Thus two ways are offered out of the difficulty.

Local representatives and the H. L. League will meet again in Oakland next week. All who are interested in the movement should attend the meeting. Some interesting developments are expected.

S. S. BUREAU MEETS TOMORROW NIGHT

Richmond Social Service Bureau will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow night in Judge Roth's court room in the Pitkin Building. The usual meeting night is Friday, but the day was changed for this meeting because Friday was a holiday.

Important business will be discussed and all members are asked to attend.

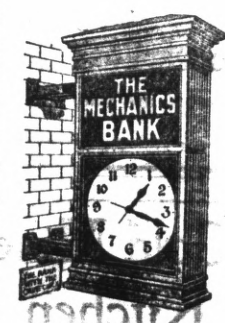

Granted Divorce from Bigamist

Mrs. Christina Johnson, living near the county line, has been granted an annulment of her marriage to Milton Johnson on the grounds of bigamy. Johnson was married to another woman when he married her in Santa Anna several years ago. Johnson also paid damages to the amount of $5000 incurred when he refused his wife medical attention.

The complaint was served on Johnson several weeks ago as he came out of the gates of San Quentin after serving a term for bigamy.

With the amount of boneheadedness in this country it ought not to be necessary to send to Africa for ivory.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

This editor was in New York and Washington when the Lusitania was sunk, and knows that President Wilson could not be reached by anybody for several days. He locked himself in and in solitude prayed to Almighty God for guidance. His heart was full and he keenly felt the weight of anguish and responsibility resting upon him.

Since then we all know what has happened. Our country is in the war, and to stay there to a finish, and the finish is a long way from being in sight yet. It looks very much now as though the horrible tragedy must continue all through this year and at least another. Our troubles are only beginning. Thousands of the flower of our manhood will be slaughtered; hearts must break; fortunes must be lost; billions must be expended; and all the sorrows and deep anguish of war must come to us as a nation before the end.

The President of our country, who, by virtue of his office, is commander-in-chief of our army and navy, has sorrows, burdens and responsibilities so great, so overwhelming, that very few of us understand or realize how great they are. Surely it is our plain duty in this awful time of stress to give the head of our government all possible support and to encourage him all we can. And he who does not do this does not do his duty and verges upon disloyalty.

This is certainly no time to be playing politics, and those who are doing so, and dragging the American flag into the mud and mire of partisanship deserve the severest censure. We are not Republicans or Democrats just now, or until this war is over. We are Americans only.

It is a sad spectacle to see and read of the men in high places, men like Theodore Roosevelt, Senator Stone, Senator Penrose and half a dozen or so others like them, shouting from the housetops and trying to hinder and belittle the President of the United States at a time like this. It is downright disloyal. There is no earthly reason for it, other than party politics, and what a shame and disgrace it is that any man or set of men could be found at such a crisis in the affairs of our nation as this is who will so far forget his manhood as to hinder instead of help this grand good man who is trying to do his very best for his country and for every man, woman and child in it.

But it were ever thus, and maybe always will be. It was just the same during the Civil war. The same kind of small-minded and egotistical mongrels who are attacking President Lincoln now, then attacked President Lincoln, and in the same manner, and for political reasons.

During the winter of 1863-4 the public mind was much preoccupied with the subject of the next presidential election. There was much dissatisfaction with Mr. Lincoln, and a sentiment widely diffused and very active against his renomination and reelection had been growing up within the Republican party. This was based on the charge that he was too slow, too conservative, too little drastic in his methods of conducting the war, and especially in treating the subject of slavery. A considerable number of men in the Senate and House, men of radical views, and some of them very prominent, were unfriendly to Lincoln and criticized him with great severity alike in public and in private. Many of the important newspapers echoed the same criticisms, foremost among them being the great New York Tribune, edited by Horace Greeley, then the most powerful journalist in America.

The most conspicuous man in public office who was connected with this movement though rather surreptitiously, was S. P.

Chase, then Secretary of the Treasury. Chase was a man of enormous though restrained self-conceit, and possessed an absorbing ambition to be President. Being in Lincoln's cabinet, he was restrained by propriety from coming out openly against his chief, but without doubt he was secretly and assiduously plotting his overthrow. Lincoln knew this well but held his peace. The two senators from Kansas—Lane and Pomeroy—hated each other intensely but had a point of agreement in a common dislike of Lincoln.

A circular was prepared by a committee and sent out broadcast over the land, in which Lincoln was severely censured, and a call was made for a concerted movement to prevent his nomination. Of course, this was soon known to Lincoln, but again he held his peace. Chase was the man agreed upon to put in Lincoln's place and the great Secretary stooped to further the scheme while still holding his seat in the Cabinet. Who but Lincoln would have put up with so much perfidy? Chase confessed that his candidacy depended upon the support of his own state of Ohio. The legislature of Ohio by an almost unanimous vote promptly repudiated the movement and most warmly endorsed Lincoln. This put Chase out of the running but only strengthened his sympathy with the movement. Other Legislatures of great states echoed the voice of Ohio, and yet these malcontents persevered. They had the fatuous belief that the strength of the loyal sentiment of the country was with them, and they determined to call a convention. They did call it to meet at Cleveland one week before the Republican convention at Baltimore. They hoped thus to forestall the action of the Republican convention and bleed it to death. General John C. Fremont, the most conspicuous military failure of the war was agreed upon as the candidate.

The call provoked a loud and indignant protest from the loyal masses all over the land, the leaders were scared and a few of them appeared at Cleveland, the attendance was small and scattering, but Fremont was nominated and the attempt was made to start a campaign. The attempt provoked only anger, scorn and ridicule, and long before the election Fremont withdrew. It was an ignominious collapse.

They had a bill passed for the reconstruction of the rebel States which the President refused to sign. They at once set on foot a movement to humiliate and defeat Lincoln. Everybody now sees the superb wisdom of Lincoln in this matter, and the folly of the bill, but these men were fairly enraged against him. They issued what was known as the Wade-Davis Manifesto, which was circulated by hundreds of thousands of copies and published in the newspapers of the country. It was a terrific indictment of Lincoln as a reactionary and imbecile, as false to his great trust and recreant to the highest interests of the country, and in trumpet tones it called upon the loyal masses to rebuke him. The awful battles of that summer were in progress with indecisive results; the country was full of distress and lamentation, and darkness brooded over the face of the land. The great, patient, long-suffering, mighty President sat steadily at his post, and still held his peace. His private letters and journal now show that he was deeply discouraged.

But Almighty Providence had not given up the American people to insensate folly, Lincoln was vindicated by a tremendous majority, and the Union was saved. History repeats itself. Like causes and conditions are usually followed by like effects and results. The attempt to set up a political movement based on personal ambition, or greed, or prejudice, or passion is certain to be abortive and in the end carry down with it all its chief promoters.

There is nothing the boys in the army will appreciate more, or get more real and lasting pleasure out of, than a nice bound volume of The Thinkograph. Man, who have received them write back how much they are pleased, and how all the boys borrow them and want more. The News has several hundred of these yet on hand, and while they always sold for 75c we have marked them down to 50c, which is only a trifle above actual cost for the binding, as they are got up in artistic shape. Any friend will be glad to one as a Christmas present.

Rothchild, Europe's shrewdest financier, predicts that San Francisco Bay is to be the site of one of the world's three largest cities, following the building of the Panama Canal, because it is at the strategic point to control the commerce of the world's greatest ocean and markets. Deep water frontage is the key to the situation. RICHMOND has the only deep water frontage on the continental side of the Bay. Therefore it is bound to profit more by the Panama Canal than any other point in the world.

More industries have located in Richmond in the last ten years than in any other five cities of its size on the Coast.

Richmond was a grain field twelve years ago. To-day it is a city of 25,000.

RICHMOND has the only natural deep water frontage on the continental side of San Francisco Bay, the greatest harbor in the world. That's why it is already a great seaport. Both by location and resources the city is a great natural railroad center.

RICHMOND is located at the junction of the three great highways of transportation—the inland rivers, the transcontinental railroads, and the Pacific Ocean.

Wanted 10,000 Mule Riders!

Did you ever ride a mule? Well, if you did not today will furnish you the opportunity. Jasbo, the famous trick mule, is here today and will occupy the stage at the T. & D. Richmond Theater as part of today's big road show. It will be a "catch-as-catch-can" riding contest in which most of the bets are on Jasbo, who has heretofore been unconquered by all the tricks of famous riders. If there is anybody in Richmond who wants to try, Manager Dan Riordan will give him the chance today.

Other features of high interest on the bill will be Billy Kelgard in an entertaining piano-monologue, Rolfe and Kennedy in a vaudeville surprise, and a comedy sketch, "When the Cat's Away," by Estelle Wordette and Company.

Constance Talmadge, famous film star, will be seen in the newest picture, "Scandal." There will also be a "Pathe-News."

BUILDERS ARE BUSY

Work will start as soon as the preliminaries are finished by the school board, and the building will be ready for the fall opening. Many local mechanics will be employed on the job.

Then the Germans would be in very bad humor and were much rougher with us. Frequently we got the reports from them that the British fleet had been sunk. They would tell us that the Germans were going to conquer the world."
